Are there RV facilities? What can I expect?

First, there are no RV hookups. There are a couple of large concrete "pads" and limited electrical outlets. However, there are no full RV connections for any utilities and the electrical outlets have a limited capacity. (For the fortunate that arrive early enough to snag a key spot, you cannot run your air conditioner or other power hungry electrical devices. It will trip the circuit breaker.)

So the general rule of thumb is that you should be prepared to park your RV and be totally self-sufficient with no connections for water, sewer or electricity. (After all, you are not paying fees for an RV hookup.) There are other campgrounds in the Lake Cachuma area that have RV facilities. The rate for these RV campsites are typically around $100.00 for 2 nights. Please note, these RV campsites at the "main" Lake Cachuma camping area are several miles from Live Oak campground.

What activities can I expect?

- Saturday - Santa Barbara Wine tasting
- Saturday Night - Live Music by "Three Car Garage"
- Campfire sing-along to follow live music (bring your guitars!)
